Intelligence Handbook

Communist Aid to Less Developed Countries of the Free World, 1975

ER 76-10167
March 1976

Copy No 51

Foreword

This handbook provides data on Communist military and economic aid activities in the less developed countries of the Free World. It serves as an annex to a detailed assessment of significant developments in Communist-LDC military and economic aid relationships in 1975 that will be issued under separate cover.

Statistics in this handbook update and supersede those in the previous publications. Values of military agreements are Soviet trade prices. These prices are currently under review.

In this handbook the term Communist countries refers to the USSR, the People's Republic of China, and the following countries of Eastern Europe – Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, and Romania.

The term less developed countries of the Free World includes the following: (1) all countries of Africa except the Republic of South Africa; (2) all countries of East Asia except Hong Kong and Japan; (3) Malta, Portugal, and Spain in Europe; (4) all countries in Latin America except Cuba; and (5) all countries in the Near East and South Asia. Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam, which became Communist countries in 1975, are reported on for historical reasons in this issue.

The term extension refers to a commitment to provide goods and services either on deferred payment terms or as grants. Assistance is considered to have been extended when accords are initialed and constitute a formal declaration of intent. The term drawings refers to the delivery of goods or the use of services.

Until 1975 the annual review of Communist military and economic aid activities was covered in the annual R-14 report series, Aid and Trade Activities of Communist Countries in Less Developed Areas of the Free World, prepared under the aegis of the Subcommittee on International Trade and Aid of the Economic Intelligence Committee, USIB. The subcommittee was abolished effective 1 October 1974.

The figures in this handbook have been coordinated with the Bureau of Intelligence and Research of the Department of State, the Defense Intelligence Agency, and the Agency for International Development. Comments and queries regarding this publication are welcomed. They may be directed to [redacted] of the Office of Economic Research, [redacted]

[1] The estimated value is a minimum figure derived either by using the aggregate value (at list prices) of agreements where known or by pricing the material through analogous prices noted in aid agreements between Communist countries and other less developed countries or from estimates of prices where agreements data are not available. Values of military agreements are Soviet trade prices. These prices are currently under review. Where the value of the equipment is believed to be less than $1 million, the estimated minimum value is shown as Negl. The estimated value does not include credits for construction of military industrial installations and airfields, which in some cases may be carried under economic assistance agreements.

[2] Cash payments include downpayments required at contract signing or when deliveries are made as well as commercial sales. These numbers are minimum estimates. Since October 1973 an unknown portion of Middle Eastern arms supplies are being financed by Arab oil producers.

[3] Discounts are listed as the equivalent of grant aid. The amounts are estimated.

[4] Afghanistan has also received credits valued at nearly $24 million from the USSR for construction of airfields.

[5] Excludes arms provided the Algerian rebel government prior to independence.

[6] Minimum estimate.

[7] Excluded are more than $9 million worth of Chinese ground forces ordnance and other military equipment received by Cambodia from December 1966 to July 1969, as a "cut" for handling transshipment of arms to the NVA/VC through Sihanoukville. Cambodia also received economic aid of $1.3 million from Czechoslovakia for the construction of an ammunition plant.

[8] Excludes $8 million in Soviet aid that is not expected to be drawn.

[9] Libya and Algeria may have paid $150 million in cash to the USSR for arms provided during the October 1973 Arab-Israeli War on both Egyptian and Syrian account.

[10] These probably were cash sales.

[11] Ghana also received credits valued at $13 million for construction of an ammunition plant and an airfield from Czechoslovakia and the USSR, respectively.

[12] Agreement for MIG-21 FL production in India, dated at provision of license for manufacture. The credit portion covers license and imports of jigs, tools, and fixtures; the downpayment portion covers imports of aircraft components and raw materials for assembly and production. The value of agreement for production of Atoll air-to-air missiles has not been ascertained.

[13] Agreement for MIG-21 M production in India, dated at the provision of license for manufacture.

[14] North Yemen also received $5 million from the USSR for the construction of an airfield.

[1] Values of military agreements are Soviet trade prices. These prices are currently under review.
[2] Includes aid only to independent established governments. Aid to Algeria prior to its independence in mid-1962 is, therefore, excluded as is Soviet aid to Angola.
[3] $68 million of this total was delivered on Soviet account under the Soviet-Libyan arms accord of 1974.
[4] Outstanding orders for most equipment were cancelled when the programs in Cyprus and Indonesia became inactive.
[5] In Pakistan, the USSR has stopped delivery of weaponry, although it is providing support-type equipment—particularly vehicles.
